Growin' Up

I've been tying my own shoes now
Ever since 1989
But I'd be lying if I told you
I'm not trippin all the time

I know I have some growing up to do
Pay no mind to me; it's just a phase I'm going through
I'm just a boy at heart if I was to tell the truth
I know I have some growing up to do

I check myself out in the mirror
But it doesn't mean I'm fine
Because I walk away and can't remember
What I look like half the time

I've been thinking about the future
And all the promise that it holds
I've been called to be a wise man
Long before I'm old
