

From the album, Character Appreciation (2007)

Rewind

A leather bible, the town revival

A point in time defined

This is not the way she thought that it would be

This is where she draws the line

Then the sun comes over the boulevard; it's time to rewind

Then the sun comes over the boulevard; it's time to rewind

A lack of oxygen makes her think again

She should find some place where people take their time

She said people chat about this and that

But she wants me to listen to her mind

Then the sun comes over the boulevard; it's time to rewind

Then the sun comes over the boulevard; it's time to rewind

Rewind, rewind

It's been a good ride she had the time of her life but it's time to rewind

Through the ups and downs and the turnarounds

It all moves by at the speed of sound tonight

And she thought this day would never come

But now it's here she hopes to get it right

Then the sun comes over the boulevard; it's time to rewind

Then the sun comes over the boulevard; it's time to rewind

Rewind, rewind

It's been a good ride she had the time of her life but it's time to rewind